A THIRD OF THE SESSION GONE AND THE HOUSE HAS DONE LITTLE.

ONLY THREE APPROPRIATION BILLS YET PASSED

-GREAT DIFFICULTY IN GETTING

A QUORUM.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Washington, Jan. 14.-When Congress reassembled on December 5 the usual breezy proclamations were issued by the Democratic leaders about what they were going to do at this session. The thundering in the index was extremely loud, and was, no doubt, expected not only to produce a profound impression upon the Republican Senate and President, but also to startle the country. Chaleman Springer was going to pass a lo shelve them or the President to veto them; Chairman Holman was going to bring the great sundry Civil Appropriation bill before the House in the very first week of the session and pass it before the holiday recess, and Mr. Dockery was going to do the same thing with the District of Columbia bill, and the other general appropriation bills were going to be brought in and passed at a like dizzy rate of speed. The sliver question was to be settled out of hand by the Coinage Committee. In short, the country was going to be treated to a "halcyon and vociferous" session.

Well, more than one-third of the time actually available for legislative business-after deducting Sundays. the holiday recess and the day which must be devoted to the counting of the electoral votes—has been used; and there is nothing in what has already been done or in the present condition of business to justify the belief proclamations will be carried out. The work of most of the House committees is in an unusually backward condition. This is especially true of such committees as have charge of general appropriation ills, and it is a fact for which the Democratic leaders of the House-the chairmen and members of the committees on Ways and Means, Appropriations and Rules -are mainly responsible.

For two years at least these men, in common with many other distinguished Democrats, have been inted by fears of a Treasury deficit, and one would pave supposed that their very first act after Congress reassembled last month, in view of the fact that the year of a Democratic Administration, would have been have a thorough inquiry into the actual condition of the Treasury. No such inquiry was ordered until just before Congress adjourned for the holidays, the dylay being due in part to a controversy between the Committee on Appropriations and the Committee on Ways and Means as to which should conduct it—a controversy which it took the Committee on Rules some days to settle. In consequence of this delay, even a preliminary statement of the result of the inquiry cannot made until the middle of the present month, and the framing of several of the large appropriation bills, such as the Naval bill, the Indian bill, etc., is necessarily delayed.

Only three of the general appropriation bills have yet passed the House—the Army bill, the Fortification nd the District of Columbia bill. There remain the Agricultural bill, the Pension bill, the Indian bill. stoffice bill, the Naval bill, the Military Academy bill, the Diplomatic and Consular bill, the Legislative Executive and Judicial bill, the General Deficiency bill and the Sundry Civil bill, none of which have yo been reported to the House. Over the Sundry Civil bill there is likely to be a desperate battle in the House between the Appropriations Committee and the Committee on Rivers and Harbors. There is to be no River and Harbor bill this year, but the members of the latter committee will insist that the amount-about $15,000,000-reported by the Army engineers as the amount which "can be profitably expended dur-ing the next fiscal year" under contracts authorized in the last River and Harbor act, shall be carried in the Sundry Civil bill. Chairman Holman will insist just as strongly that not more than $5,000,000 shall thus carried. Unless he can manage to get the bill through the House on a motion to suspend the rules, as he did last session, "Economist" Holman will be likely to suffer defeat.

Thus far the Colunge Committee, under the able lendership of Chairman Bland, has made no visible progress in "the settlement of the silver question." bu Committee on Banking and Currency has suc ceeded, after a hard struggle, in reporting a bill which deals with that question and also aims to increase the National bank note circulation. The committee was by no means unanimous, however, and the minority expressed a purpose to "fight the bill to the death it is doubtful, therefore, if the measure is even con-sidered by the House, and it is likewise extremely coubtful whether any other financial measure will pasat body at this session.

Neither is there the slightest probability that any "popgun" tariff bills will be passed; even Springer does not expect it and his proclamation may be considered as withdrawn. Springer will be in his element during the next few weeks, for he has charge of the Treasury inquiry, and if there is any thing that he fairly dotes on it is an inve t gation of any sort. Probably no other man ever sat in either branch of Congress who did as much "investigating" as Springer has done-or with such meagre finished business is concerned the House has thus far done little or nothing; indeed, arrearages have continued to accumulate, and the calendar is bigger to day than it was at the beginning of the session, when contained the titles of no less than 2,027 bills which had been framed, considered and favorably reported by committees. With this enormous docket on its table and the proclamations of the Democratic leaders fresh in the public aim of the House sat exactly twenty-four hours during the first eleven working days of the resision, and it has done little if any better in the eleven working days during which it has been in session since that thee. It never has been so difficult to obtain a working quorum, however, and the lack of one has fured at adjournment of the sitting on more than one occasion. Thus on December 21, after the consistential of the bill to establish sundry lighthouses and other aids to ravication and commerce had been completed by the Committee of the Whole and favorably reported to the House, a single obscure member named Antony presented the bill from being put upon its passage and forced an adjournment by raising the point of "no quorum." That is a sort of starssmanship which prevails at this session to an extent never before known.

It is barely possible that a measure to establish a National quarantine system and provide for a temporary sus-pension of immigration may be carried through the House at this session-provided a quorum can be obtained—but the enactment of any other general legislation aside from the passage of the general appropriation bills, does not appear to be among the pessibilities. had been framed, considered and favorably reported by

TO CHASE RAIDERS ACROSS THE BORDER. AN AGREEMENT WITH MEXICO BY WHICH TROOPS MAY CROSS THE PRONTIER.

Washington, Jan. 14 (Special) .- On November 17 ast the Secretary of State manifested through the United States Minister to Mexico a wish that the agreement of June 25, 1890 between this Government and Mexico, allowing Federal troops of each of the two sursuit of hestile Indians, might be renewed. In the opinion of Secretary Foster a renewal of this agreement has become necessary on account of the raids which, according to advices received at the War Department, had been committed by bands of Apaches along the sividing line between Arizona and New-Mexico. It was then feared, as has subsequently been found to be the case, that these Indians would seek to evade purpoit by United States troops by crossing the Mexi-The efforts of this Government to se cure authority to chase and capture the depredatin Indians have been met in a generous spirit by Mexicand the former agreement between the Government

The order also states that the agreement is to continue in the depredations of Indians and the necessity for their pursuit by armed forces shall con tinue. It is provided, however that in no case shall the agreement extend beyond one year from November 25, 1892. The agreement itself, which was entered into between the United States and Mexico on the part of Mr. Blaine and Mr. Ramere, is in effect that the Federal troops of the two Republics may reciprocally cross the boundary line of the two countries when in pursuit of hostile Indians upon the following condi-

Sixth. The abuses which may be committed by the forces which cross into the territory of the other nation shall be punished by the government to which the forces belong, according to the gravity of the offence and in conformity with its laws as if the abuses had been committed in its own territory. Seventh. In case of offences committed by the inhabitants of one country against the foreign forces within its limits, the government of such country is held responsible to the government of the other for denial of justice in the punishment of the guilty.

The agreement at the time it was entered into was regarded as a provisional one and was intended to be kept in force only until such time as a definite one should be negotiated between the governments in-terested. It can be terminated by cliner government on four months' notice to the other, and under its provisions, as noted above, is void at the expiration

DISCUSSING THE NICARAGUA CANAL

RESOLUTIONS OF INQUIRY IN THE SENATE THE

TEXT FOR DEBATE. Washington, Jan. 14 .- In the Senate to-day Mr. Wolcott offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Foreign Relations to inquire what sums have Nicaragua Canal since the accounts of expenditure heretofore rendered. He remarked that two years ngo testimony was taken by the Committee on Fereign Relations which showed that up to that time about $3,000,000 had been expended; but it was now proposed to give to the company $6,000,000 in bonds guaranteed by the Government, and $12,000,000 of He did not suppose that It would be seriously contended that any such expenditures had been made by the company within the last two years; and the purpose of his resolution was to ascertain what the actual expenditures had been.

Mr. sherman, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, said he had no objection to the resolution. Two years ago, he said, the company had expended $3,000,000, and had since then expended considerably more, but not as much as $6,000,000. But the amount actually expended was to be ascertained by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of State, and the maximum to be turned over to the company in guaranteed bonds was not to exceed $6,000,000.

Mr. Hoar said that recent experiences in another country, and the experiences in this country in relation to the transcontinental railroads, made it very important that the Committee on Foreign Regulations and Congress should see to it that in the construction of the Nicaragua Canal daylight should be constantly turned in on every transaction. It was a matter in which the good name of the country and the pure and up-ight expenditure of public moneys was very much

The resolution was, at the suggestion of Mr. Morgan laid over till Monday.

The resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Morgan in structing the Committee on Commerce to inquire and report the advantages, if any, that would accrue to the productions, industries, coastwise and foreign comnerce, immigration and other interests of the United States by means of the additional facilities of transportation and the reduction of the cost thereof that would be afforded by the Micaragus ship canal was taken up, and Mr. Morgan addressed the Senate upon it. In the course of his argument Mr. Morgan said that logically the Government of Great Britain had just as much right as the Government of the United States had to charter the Canal Company and to take the control of it which it was proposed that the United states should take. And if Costa Rica and Nicaragua were to tender such an overture to Great the offer which they made to Congress, and if Great Britain should accept the offer, the United States would have one paltry plea-he would not call it paltry-one emasculated plea; and that was the worn and torn and fragmentary Monree Doctrine, which the senate of the United States had succeeded in kitching literally into doll rags.

Mr. Sherman n-ked Mr. Morgan to notice the objection made in some quarters that the owners of the $12,000,000 of stock of the company would have an undue influence in the management of the corporaower of the Government was re-erved in control of to own $80,500,000 of the $100.00 000 of stock, and would therefore have control, so far as Spenking of the provision of the bill for ten Gavern ment directors (out of fifteen), Mr. Mergan said that if the French Government had had its own directors in the Panama Canal Company the robberles which had taken place and which had disgraced and nearly de stroyed the French Republic would not have been perpetrated, and that mire of fraud and corruption and villary which was now shocking the sendbillier of that great and noble people would have been avoided.

A PLAN TO ABOLISH PENSION AGENCIES. Washington, Jan. 14 - Members of the Appropria sition which they think, if fea-ible, will save to the Government several million dollars annually.
